GRANULAR NEWS

What are GRANULAR objectives?

GRANULAR's motto and reason to exist is "better knowledge for better rural policies".

In a video of less than 2 minutes, Tristan Berchoux- GRANULAR Coordinator points out the three main objectives for our project to be a fundamental milestone to accelerate sustainable development in rural areas. Our Rural Compass aims to guide rural actors to design place-based policies that are fitted to the needs of rural areas.

WHY DOES GRANULAR EXIST?

Read more about GRANULAR in our leaflet

Rural areas need better data and tools to design place-based policies that are targeted to their needs.

The overarching ambition of the GRANULAR project is to identify, develop and provide novel data and reusable tools to understand the characteristics, dynamics and drivers of rural areas and hence support place and evidence-based policy making. Find out how our leaflet explains the project!
